INTRODUCTION

Building Zanzibar's next generation of places

Dear PADDCO Team,

Zanzibar is rapidly becoming one of Africa's most important destinations for tourism, investment and real estate.

As a major real-estate developer, PADDCO is in a unique position: you are not simply selling properties — you are creating the places where Zanzibar's next generation of residents, investors and visitors will live, stay and experience the island.

We believe there is an opportunity to complement what PADDCO is already building with a technology platform designed specifically for the African hospitality and property ecosystem.

That platform is Isisel.

THE PLATFORM

What is Isisel?

Isisel is an Africa-focused property marketplace and property-management platform designed to connect:

Properties → Hosts → Guests → Operations

Our objective is to build the digital infrastructure that allows African properties to be discovered, managed and operated more efficiently.

Isisel combines property distribution with operational tools for hosts, including reservations, property management, cleaning operations and other services required to run hospitality properties.

We are building Isisel with Africa's realities in mind — including mobile-first users, local payment ecosystems, multilingual markets and the operational challenges that traditional international platforms often do not solve particularly well.

Why PADDCO?

PADDCO represents exactly the type of partner we want to work with.

You already have something that technology companies cannot manufacture:

High-quality real estate in a strategically important African destination.

Our proposition is simple:

PADDCO

You build the properties.

ISISSEL

We help build the digital infrastructure around them.

Instead of PADDCO having to invest additional resources into building an independent technology ecosystem for property discovery, reservations and operational coordination, Isisel can provide that layer as a strategic technology partner.

OUR PROPOSAL

A strategic partnership — free to begin

We would like to propose a strategic partnership between PADDCO and Isisel.

During the initial partnership phase, Isisel would provide PADDCO with access to relevant Isisel technology and marketplace capabilities free of charge, subject to mutually agreed terms and scope.

01

No upfront software implementation fee.

02

No requirement for PADDCO to build its own platform.

03

No immediate financial commitment required to test the partnership.

Instead, we would work together to demonstrate what the Isisel ecosystem can do for PADDCO's properties.

VALUE

What PADDCO gets

01 — DIGITAL PROPERTY DISTRIBUTION

An additional channel without building one

PADDCO properties can be presented through the Isisel marketplace. Potential guests and users can discover:

- Apartments
- Villas
- Residences
- Holiday properties
- Investment properties
- Other eligible PADDCO developments

Each property can have its own digital profile containing professional photographs, property description, amenities, location, availability, pricing, check-in/check-out information, maps and property-specific information.

This gives PADDCO an additional digital distribution channel without having to build one internally.

Technology that disappears behind the operation

For properties intended for short-term or hospitality use, Isisel can provide operational tools allowing PADDCO or its property managers to manage:

- Reservations
- Availability
- Guests
- Property information
- Check-in / check-out
- Cleaning
- Operational tasks
- Reservation history

The objective is to make the technology disappear behind the operation. PADDCO focuses on the real estate. Isisel handles the digital infrastructure.

03 — ISISSEL CLEANERS

Operational readiness guests will notice

One of the operational modules we are developing is Isisel Cleaners. Hosts and property managers will be able to:

- Add cleaners
- Assign cleaners to properties
- Automatically generate cleaning requests after checkout
- Schedule cleaning jobs
- Manage cleaning calendars
- Receive completion reports
- Receive photographs
- Receive audio reports
- Review cleaners

This is particularly important in hospitality. A guest may never see the property-management software. But they will absolutely notice whether the property was properly prepared.

04 — AUDIO-BASED REPORTING

Designed for African operational realities

We are designing Isisel with accessibility and African operational realities in mind. Cleaners will be able to report issues through voice recordings, photographs and optional written notes.

“The bathroom sink is leaking and there is a crack on the bedroom mirror.”

EXAMPLE CLEANER AUDIO REPORT

The property manager can receive the audio report together with photographs. This removes the requirement for cleaners to produce lengthy written reports and creates a simple operational communication system.

05 — A FUTURE PADDCO DIGITAL ECOSYSTEM

Beyond listings — one operational layer

The partnership can eventually go beyond property listings. Imagine PADDCO having a digital operational layer connecting:

PADDCO → Properties → Reservations → Guests → Cleaners → Maintenance → Property Managers → Analytics

All through one ecosystem. This is where we believe Isisel can become significantly more valuable than a conventional property listing platform.

06 — DATA & OPERATIONAL VISIBILITY

A clearer picture of portfolio performance

As the platform develops, PADDCO could have access to operational insights such as:

- Property performance
- Reservation activity
- Occupancy
- Cleaning activity
- Guest activity
- Property demand
- Popular locations
- Booking trends
- Operational issues

The objective is to give management a clearer picture of how the portfolio is performing.

PARTNERSHIP PHILOSOPHY

Why this partnership is different

We are not approaching PADDCO simply asking: “Would you like to list your properties on Isisel?”

We are proposing something much broader. We want PADDCO to become one of Isisel’s strategic real-estate partners in Zanzibar.

PADDCO would have the opportunity to participate early in the development of the ecosystem and provide feedback on the tools that are being built for African property operators.

In return, Isisel gets the opportunity to work alongside an established real-estate developer and learn directly from real-world property operations.

This creates a genuine partnership rather than a conventional software-client relationship.

COMMERCIAL APPROACH

Why free?

We understand that PADDCO has no reason to pay for an unproven platform before seeing its value. Therefore, we are prepared to approach the initial collaboration differently.

We want to earn the right to become PADDCO's technology partner.

The initial collaboration can be provided without an upfront cost, allowing PADDCO to evaluate:

- The platform
- The marketplace
- The operational tools
- The user experience
- The quality of support
- The potential business value

...before making any long-term commercial commitment. This significantly reduces PADDCO's risk.

WHAT WE ASK

Strategic collaboration, not upfront investment

In return, we would request strategic collaboration rather than an upfront financial investment.

01

Access to selected properties

Allow Isisel to onboard an agreed number of eligible PADDCO properties.

Feedback

Give us feedback from your property-management and hospitality teams.

03

Strategic relationship

Allow Isisel to work with an identified PADDCO representative to coordinate the partnership.

04

Permission to showcase

Subject to PADDCO's approval, present PADDCO as a strategic Isisel partner in Zanzibar — visibility as an early adopter of African property technology.

STRATEGIC ADVANTAGE

The potential advantage for PADDCO

The biggest advantage is not simply another listing channel. It is early access to infrastructure being designed specifically around Africa's property ecosystem.

PADDCO would have the opportunity to influence that infrastructure from the beginning.

NOT THIS

Adapting PADDCO's operations to a generic global platform.

BUT THIS

Building the platform around the realities of the market.

MARKET CONTEXT

Why Zanzibar matters to Isisel

Zanzibar is strategically important to Isisel because it sits at the intersection of:

- Tourism
- International investment
- African real estate
- Hospitality
- Short-term rentals
- Luxury residences
- Property development

We believe Zanzibar can become one of the strongest markets for Isisel's expansion. And we would rather enter that market alongside an established local developer than attempt to operate in isolation.

VISION

Our long-term vision

Our ambition is much larger than creating another booking platform. We want Isisel to become part of the digital infrastructure supporting Africa's hospitality and property industry.

That means helping properties move from:

FROM

"We have a property."

TO

"We can digitally distribute, manage and operate that property."

PADDCO can play an important role in that journey.

PROPOSED PILOT

A limited pilot, five clear phases

We suggest beginning with a limited pilot.

1

Partnership Setup

Select a group of PADDCO properties.

2

Digital Onboarding

Create and optimize their Isisel profiles.

3

Operational Integration

Introduce relevant host-management and cleaning features.

4

Performance Evaluation

Review user engagement, property visibility, reservation activity, operational efficiency and feedback from PADDCO's team.

5

Expansion

If both parties see value, expand the partnership to additional properties and potentially additional PADDCO developments.

COMMITMENT

Our commitment

Isisel is prepared to invest its own time and technology into demonstrating the potential of this partnership.

We don't expect PADDCO to take a leap of faith. We want to build a pilot, demonstrate value and allow the results to determine what comes next.

NEXT STEP

Let's build something from Zanzibar

Africa's real-estate and hospitality industries are entering a major digital transformation. We believe African companies should not simply consume technology created elsewhere. They should participate in building the technology that will power the continent's next generation of properties.

PADDCO

Has the real estate.

ISISL

Is building the technology.

We believe there is an opportunity to combine both. We would welcome the opportunity to meet with the PADDCO team, demonstrate Isisel and discuss what a pilot partnership could look like for selected PADDCO properties.
